THE LUXURY PLANTER COLLECTION

Launched in early 2005, The Luxury Planter Collection was conceived by award-winning landscape architect Kyle Gallagher and retail manager Ally Gallagher, born from a passion for all things contemporary.

"Our vision was to create a collection of planters, simple in form, yet bold in scale and color, with an ultimately seamless quality of finish."

Architects, designers and discerning clients have embraced the magnificence of the collection, specifying their use for prestigious projects across Europe and beyond.

The planters adorn the entrance to some of the world's most celebrated hotels, bars and restaurants, and brands such as Hugo Boss and Louis Vuitton have chosen The Luxury Planter Collection to grace landmark buildings.

Images of the collection are regularly featured in international design magazines such as Casa d'abitare, FX and Elle Deco, along with a number of coffee table books. They have also appeared on TV shows such as Grand Designs and the BBC coverage of The Chelsea Flower Show.

THE LUXURY PLANTER COLLECTION

The planters are manufactured in 1.5mm prime galvanized steel, coated with exterior grade polyester powder coating.

A custom design service is available, to accommodate designers with the ability to create unique sizes, styles and colors. The typical lead time for custom orders is 6 weeks.

The planters are guaranteed against corrosion for a period of 2 years, provided there has been no physical damage to the coating.

Where required, the planters can be bolted to the ground through the drainage holes. Alternatively, they can be drilled and bolted into walls. However damage to paint caused by drilling may expose the planter to corrosion in the long term.

The planters should be cleaned using a damp sponge or cloth. If required a simple detergent may be used. The coating has a high life expectancy similar to that of the bodywork on an automobile. If the planters are cleaned regularly they will retain their appearance even after a long period of use. The use of scouring cleaners or the scouring side of a sponge can lead to surface damage, which in combination with the weather can eventually lead to corrosion.
